In the heart of Hove on one of the best roads...

This 5/6 bedroom semi detached property on Albany Villas comes with off street parking and plenty of potential.

As you arrive at the house there is ample space for more than one car on the driveway, a rare find on this road and the general area.

Into the house, the wide entrance hallway greets you with space for coats and shoes to your left. There are two superb reception rooms on the ground floor, one is being used as a bedroom currently which gives buyers flexibility to either change back to a living room or keep the same. The other reception room is to the back of the house and is used as the living room for the current owners. It faces the rear garden and has double doors with a small balcony that looks over the garden.

There is a large family bathroom on the ground floor also which has been well looked after but some buyers may want to modernise it.

Onto the first floor there is an impressive landing area which this age of house is famous for. All rooms lead off the landing. The main bedroom is to the front of the house and has high ceilings and lots of space. There is another spacious double bedroom overlooking the garden and a smaller double bedroom also at the back of the house. The bathroom on this floor is also a good size.

On the top floor there are two more bedrooms with plenty of storage space and these rooms could either be great rooms for older children or guest rooms.

On the bottom floor this space has so much potential to be a special living space. The current kitchen has ample work surface space with views of the garden. There are 2 more reception rooms on this floor providing the much needed space for a family. You access the garden through the garden room to the west facing garden. This is a wide and long space benefitting from sun all afternoon.

Albany Villas is located just a stones throw from the sea and a ten minute walk to Hove Station. There are tons of restaurants and coffee shops just at the top of the road with everything you need within walking distance.
